GENERAL INFORMATION

The Summer Academy on the Continental Shelf (SACS) is an in-depth seminar organized by the University of the Faroe Islands and the African Institute on International Law on intricate legal and technical aspects that relate to the regime of the continental shelf. SACS will be held in Arusha, Tanzania, from 21 to 27 April 2024, and tutored by judges of international courts and tribunals, members of the Commission on the Limits of the Continental Shelf and international practitioners with lengthy experiences in continental shelf matters.

PURPOSE

The purpose of SACS is to disseminate scientific and legal knowledge relating to the regime of the continental shelf, in particular the area beyond 200 nautical miles. For this purpose, SACS will confer special focus on the intricate legal and technical conditions governing the entitlement to and establishment of the continental shelf beyond 200 nautical miles, and on the delimitation of overlapping entitlements to such areas. Emphasis will therefore be given to Articles 76 and 83 of the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea and Annex II thereto.

FUNDING

SACS is funded by a generous capacity-building contribution provided by the Government of the Faroe Islands, thereby making a significant contribution at the dissemination of knowledge of the law of the sea.

COURSE CONTENT

The one-week academy will give a comprehensive overview and examination of the technical and legal aspects of Article 76; the interrelation of scientific and legal concepts inherent to the regime of the continental shelf; the function of the Commission on the Limits of the Continental Shelf; the establishment of the outer limits of the continental shelf; the delimitation methodology of the continental shelf; and the demonstration of entitlement to the continental shelf beyond 200 nautical miles.

METHODOLOGY AND TRAINING MATERIAL

The training will be conducted in the form of interactive seminars, workshops and discussions to allow a maximum exchange of views. A comprehensive set of training materials will be provided for each participant at the beginning of the training course. Certificates will be awarded to those participants who will have completed the training seminar in its entirety.
